CHILD'S COAT OF CLOTH.

Dark blue, broadcloth was used for making this child's coat showing in the sketch, the trimming consisting of long tie ends of velvet and embroidered buttons. The turndown collar was trimmed with a band of velvet with Mr. Robert Denham, and Mr. J. Clarke Porter with Mr. Walter Pitt.

The groomsmen, Mr. James Pasco, a brother of the groom, followed with Miss Stella Avery, the bridesmaid, handsomely gowned in a soft shade blue silk delicately figured with small black rings and trimmed with white lace. She wore a becoming black hat trimmed with a white bird. She carried bridesmaid roses and was never more handsome and graceful.

The beautiful younger sister of the bride, Miss Cora Mallory, as maid of honor, followed alone, a charming picture. She wore a pale green gown of soft silk with white lace yoke and her bouquet of bridesmaid roses with their soft blush tint was most effective. She wore a lovely black hat.

On the arm of her father, Mr. A. F. Mallory, the bride entered. Miss Mallory has always been considered a beautiful girl and her radiant beauty was never so striking as at this time. She was gowned in a very handsome costume of white cloth with white lace yoke and half sleeves, a dainty white hat completing the costume, and on her arm she carried an immense bouquet of bride roses.

They were met at the church by the groom with his best man and brother, Mr. John Pasco, and the solemn service was performed after which the bride party left the church by the east aisle. The groom and attendants wore the conventional morning wedding suits with grey gloves and bridesmaid bouquets.

They were driven at once to the home of the bride's parents, 220 North Palafox street, where a very informal reception was held, only relatives and a few intimate friends being present.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Pasco, Jr., left at noon on an extended wedding trip and will return via Monticello, where they will be the guests of Senator and Mrs. Pasco and a large reception will be given them when the bride will meet her very large connection of new relatives. Her going away gown was a handsome grey toilette.

This marriage unites very prominent families of Florida, the Pascos, Scotts and Denhams of Jefferson who are prominent figures in the life of middle Florida, the groom's family, and among the bride's relatives the Simpsons and Overmans on her mother's side who have been and are people of note in West Florida. Her paternal great grandfather was Mr. Francisco Moreno, one of Pensacola's oldest and most influential citizens, and her grandfather was Hon. Stephen R. Mallory, United States Senator for several terms prior to the civil war and later secretary of the navy of the Confederate States in President Davis's cabinet. Her uncle, Hon. Stephen R. Mallory, occupies a seat in the United States Senate at the present time.

Miss Mallory is herself a great social favorite in Pensacola and was the second queen of the Pensacola Carnival, her royal consort being Mr. J. E. Bears. Her charming personality has held the friends she so easily won.

Mr. Pasco is very popular in social and professional circles being one of Pensacola's prominent young lawyers. The home of the young couple will undoubtedly be a most charming and popular one.

The happiest predictions and warmest congratulations follow them.

THREE WEDDINGS AT DEFUNIAK.

We generally know when there is to be a wedding, but last week we had in common with everybody else had a genuine surprise when Mr. Phil Fellows, on Wednesday morning met Miss Nettie Goyer of Reiderville, Wis., at the train, and went to the residence of Mrs. E. R. Sprague where they were married by Dr. Baker of the Methodist church. The bride spent a part of the winter here two years ago, and the acquaintance formed then ripened into the attachment of which the wedding is the result.

Mr. L. J. Natthey and Miss Leney Wise stole a march on the old folks and several of their friends and were happily married at the residence of Mrs. J. W. McSwain Sunday, Oct. 28, at 12 noon, Hon. T. A. McCallum officiating. We join with their many friends in a hearty congratulation.

Married at the home of the bride's parents Sunday, Oct. 28, at 11 a. m., Miss Bessie Miller to Mr. A. J. Bolton, Hon. J. A. Richbourg officiating. After the ceremony they returned to the room where they received the hearty congratulations and several valuable gifts from friends and relatives. They will leave for a short visit the first of the week for the Bay country. —DeFunia Breeze.

FAULTS OF CHILDREN.

Investigate the Causes Before Resorting to Punishment.

A large amount of so called faultiness among children may be accounted for upon grounds which quite exclude the desirability of punishment for its correction, says a writer in the London Lancet. It may be due to the fact that the child has had insufficient sleep or is overtired after a long day's excitement.

Children may be restless or restive as the direct result of being underdressed. They may have been confined at home for the whole day owing to the inclemency of the weather, and as a consequence the only apparent outlet for their restrained physical energy is found by annoying those who have charge of them.

There are also some cases in which an incipient physical or mental disorder may manifest itself by symptoms which very strongly resemble willful perversity unless the possibility of the onset of an illness is borne in mind. It is notorious that ill timed punishment in these cases at times has precipitated a severe attack. Stuttering and shyness are also likely to be aggravated by being noticed. A deaf child is often inattentive and has been occasionally classified among the mentally defective.

It has been said that many children are punished for the faults of their teachers. This is undoubtedly true when such faults exhibit themselves as a continually close atmosphere in the schoolroom or a prolonged strained and cramped attitude of the pupil's body while he is seated at work. Frequent periods of exercise in the open air are essential in order to arouse the circulation and to stimulate the mind if a mischievous disposition is to be combated.

Eggs in St. Catherine.

There are so many ways of serving eggs that the vegetarian does not have so bad a time after all, unless he is of a contrary disposition and will not eat the healthful food he provides. One way of doing them is a la St. Catherine, though why thus named is more than the most erudite could disclose. Cut cold baked potatoes in halves lengthwise and scoop out a part of the pulp. Break the eggs into half, sprinkle with salt and pepper, add a teaspoonful of cream to each and bake in a moderate oven until the eggs are set. In the meantime beat the white of an egg into a stiff froth and work into it gradually the potato pulp which has been scooped out. Heap over the baked eggs and keep in the oven until well puffed and brown. These are nice for a lunch dish or for high tea.

Teasing the Hair.

The abominable fashion of "teasing" the hair is responsible for much of the untidy hairdressing of today. To the uninitiated one must explain that "teasing" means combing the hair the wrong way so as to make it appear thick and fluffy. It ruins the hair eventually by breaking it and making it fall out, but even the prospect of future baldness will not keep the girls from doing it. If it were very becoming there might be some excuse for it. But whoever yet saw a "teased" hair that did not look exceedingly untidy? If Mme. Tupper could come to life and see some of the monstrosities patterned after the fashion she originated she would be overcome with remorse and chagrin.

DELEGATES ARE ELECTED BY U. C. V.

Camp Ward No. 10, Held a Meeting Last Night and Selected Representatives.

A meeting of Camp Ward No. 10, U. C. V., was held last night in Supt. Cook's office, when delegates to represent the camp at the re-union at Gainesville, Fla., were elected, and other matters discussed.

There was a good attendance of members of the camp, and much interest was exhibited, and it is probable that in addition to the delegates there will be a good attendance of Veterans from the city. The re-union is to be held on the 13th and 14th, and the following delegates will represent Camp Ward: W. L. Wittich, W. H. Trimmer, Richard Rathwell, B. C. Cooper, Mark Mayo, G. Spoon and D. G. Brent.

THE ART OF IRONING.

Good Laundry Work Requires Care and Proper Appliances.

Some valuable instructions in the art of ironing for the amateur or ignorant professional are given in a recent monthly. Too many people iron carelessly and stupidly, when a little time and labor expended on the care of the irons and system in arranging things for the work before it is begun will greatly lessen the difficulty and shorten the operation. A good light, a clear bright fire, when gas is not used, a good set of irons, not too light and not too heavy for slender arms, an ample board covered with a blanket and a clean cloth sewed or tacked, not laid on—with these materials and patience, care and endurance, anybody can with a little practice turn out as good work as a laundry. The irons must be kept in good condition, frequently rubbed with brick dust and oil and polished on a piece of carpet or coarse cloth every time they are used. And they must never be allowed to rust.

Some fastidious people have an objection to having their underclothes ironed at all, for they know the careless ways of inferior domestics, who use dirty irons, mix clean and soiled garments and leave the clothes hanging in a smoky, fly ridden kitchen for days at a time. One particular woman has her lingerie brought up to her from the outside line, sweet and fresh from the winds of heaven, and prefers to wear them with only a little pulling out of the frills, but for most of us that would seem too unfinished and rough. So teach your maids to be neat, clean and quick about these things. Of course clothes need to be aired thoroughly, but they are not improved by lying around the kitchen or laundry too long. A simple wrinkle is to make your iron holders round in shape, so that they do not hang down over the iron at the corners. A clean cloth at the right hand is the proper thing on which to test its heat. Cotton and muslin garments should be evenly damp or they will not take a smooth gloss, and to accomplish this purpose a clean cloth and a bowl of cold water are the best combination.

Renewing Dollies.

When the hemstitching is beginning to wear on a good sized dolly or napkin and the linen center remains good and strong cut the dolly all around the hemstitching and make a new hem, drawing the threads just far enough away from the old line to find a strong place. This will give you a smaller dolly practically new. If you do not want to spend the time or take the trouble to hemstitch, make a tiny hem and edge it with a narrow lace heavy enough to match your linens.

SUNDAY ALWAYS

Day of Rest (?) and a Splitting Head-ache.

Many persons dread to see Sunday come round. But it's a fine day if used right.

A Washington man recently looked into the matter and found why he had such a mean time of it Sundays—and other days, too.

"Up to about ten months ago I was afflicted with severe headaches, two or three times a week and always on Sundays."

"Indeed, it became such a settled thing that I dreaded to see Sunday come. At first I ascribed the Sunday headaches to the fact that I did not rise as early as on other days. In order to test it I began to rise just as early on Sundays, but the head aches seemingly got worse."

"At last I concluded that coffee, of which I was very fond, and used particularly on Sunday was the direct cause of my trouble. I stopped at once and commenced Postum, since which time the headaches have not only entirely disappeared, but I feel better in many other ways."

"I would not now go back to coffee under any circumstances. At first, however, I got my family used to the taste of Postum because as I often made lemonade we did not make it with."

"In recommending Postum to friends we always try to impress on them the necessity of thoroughly boiling it according to directions on the tin."

"Name given by Postum Co., Postum, Great Mich. Road, the Little Rock, 'The Road to Wellville,' in pkg. 'There's a reason.'"

FEARFUL PAINS

SUGGESTIONS HOW WOMEN MAY FIND RELIEF.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it does not seem to be the plan of nature that women should suffer so severely. This is a severe strain on a woman's vitality. When pain exists something is wrong which should be set right or it will lead to a serious derangement of the whole female organism.

Thousands of women have testified in grateful letters to Mrs. Pinkham that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound overcomes woman's special pains and irregularities.

It provides a safe and sure way of escape from distressing and dangerous weaknesses and diseases.

The two following letters tell so convincingly what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will do for women, they cannot fail to bring hope to thousands of sufferers.

Miss Nellie Holmes, of 540 N. Division Street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"Your medicine is indeed an ideal medicine for women. I suffered misery for years with painful periods, headaches, and bearing-down pains. I consulted two different physicians but failed to get any relief. A friend from the east advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so, and no longer suffer as I did before. My periods are natural; every ache and pain is gone, and my general health is much improved. I advise all women who suffer to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Mrs. Tillie Hart, of Larimore, N. D., writes:

"I might have been spared many months of suffering and pain had I only known of the efficacy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

Ask Mrs. Pinkham's Advice—A Woman Best Understands a Woman's Ills.

Compound sooner; for I have tried so many remedies without help. "I dreaded the approach of every month as it meant so much pain and suffering for me, but after I had used the Compound two months I became regular and natural and am now perfectly well and free from pain. I am very grateful for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."

Such testimony should be accepted by all women as convincing evidence that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound stands without a peer as a remedy for all the distressing ills of women.

The success of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound rests upon the well-earned gratitude of American women.

When women are troubled with pain or irregularities, displacements or ulceration of the organs, that bearing-down feeling, inflammation, backache, bloating (or flatulency), general debility, indigestion and nervous prostration, or are beset with such symptoms as dizziness, faintness, lassitude, excitability, irritability, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, they should remember there is one tried and true remedy. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once removes such troubles. Refuse to buy any other medicine, for you need the best.

Don't hesitate to write to Mrs. Pinkham if there is anything about your sickness you do not understand. She will treat you with kindness and her advice is free. No woman ever regretted writing her and she has helped thousands. Address Lynn, Mass.
